Think in Possibilities
Just imagine what can be.

“The challenges we face today in all aspects of our lives need to be met through significant shifts in the way we see and understand ourselves, our contexts and the way we operate within them. This change will best be driven by open, humble and collaborative leadership.”

~ Laura LaBlanc, FullThought

FullThought and Think In Possibilities are joining forces to offer a day of thought, conversation and creativity. Working for change within challenging currents requires that we create time and place to be outloud and in dialogue with others. This workshop is for those who are creating new paths in life, launching new projects and developing sharper visions.

Join us to:

- 1. Explore...
the capacity of “Self” in the role of “change-maker”
- 2. Find the balance & skills...
to hear collective voice without losing your vision
- 3. Learn & Practice...
specific, tools and powerful strategies to move yourself, your project or vision forward
